Delaware is a state located in the north-eastern region of the United States. It is bordered to the south and west by Maryland, to the northeast by New Jersey, and to the north by Pennsylvania. Delaware is located close to Washington DC, the capital city of the United States of America.

Delaware is one of the most popular jurisdictions in the USA to incorporate because it provides a complete package of incorporation services, including modern and flexible laws. The type of company that is formed in Delaware is a Limited Liability Company, also known as an LLC. A Limited Liability Company is a legal entity that is separate from the individuals who run it. A Delaware Company offers the possibility to have a US company with the similar advantages of other offshore companies like the BVI, Seychelles, Belize and Panama.

We can also assist with forming the company as an 'Incorporation' so the name ending would be INC and the company type is a Corporation.

Why Form a Company in Delaware?

A Delaware LLC company formation allows for an extremely flexible business. It is widely considered to have the most business friendly legal system in the US. A Delaware LLC company is usually chosen by business owners who wish to start a company but are not in the future, planning to go public or issue shares of stock in their company.

What makes a Delaware LLC company formation unique is that it uses an Operating Agreement which is drafted by the company members. The Operating Agreement contains the company structure and the company rules that govern the owners (this can change and be amended over time). The rules can be flexible (unlike corporations) and owners can organise the company as they see fit and can create their own terms.

There is an increased asset protection for Delaware LLC's. This means if there is a judgement filed against a member of the LLC, a creditor cannot attack the LLC or ask for any of the LLC's assets. The same rule applies for other members of the LLC.

Privacy is important and this is where a Delaware LLC is favourable as there is no public register of company officers. The ultimate beneficial owner information is filed but is not publicly available. A major benefit for a Delaware company formation is the low start-up costs and franchise tax. To start a Delaware company, you are required to provide very little information and no meetings or voting takes place, this makes Delaware a very attractive jurisdiction.
